

APPLICATION FORM

Domain name dispute complaint

This form can be used to submit a complaint under the .au Dispute Resolution Policy (auDRP) in disputes between the registrant of a .au domain name and a party with competing rights in that domain name.

You can lodge a complaint where:

- a domain name is identical or confusingly similar to a name trademark or service mark in which you have rights
- the registrant has no rights or legitimate interests in respect of the domain name
- the domain name has been registered or subsequently used in bad faith.

You can find more information about what should be included in your complaint in the auDRP Rules, [specifically, Paragraph 3, Schedule B]. You will need to attach a submission to this form to describe, in accordance with the auDRP, the grounds on which your complaint is made. You will also need to attach supporting documents, such as trademarks etc, to support your claim (see page 4).

Please also arrange payment of the relevant fee in order for your complaint to be progressed. More information about payment options are provided on page 4.

This form, together with your submission and supporting documents, should be submitted to Resolution Institute by email to:
nominations@resolution.institute
