

Conciliation in the shadow of the law: A 2-day Conciliation PD Workshop

Presenters: David Bryson & Michael Mitchell

La Trobe University City Campus: 360 Collins Street, Melbourne, Victoria

9-10 November 2015

This workshop is a unique opportunity for ADR practitioners, lawyers and other interested professionals to sharpen their dispute resolution skills and explore the dynamics of how conciliation operates in a statutory context. Senior management professionals will also gain from the insights into dispute resolution techniques and how to manage outcomes within an organizational context.

The workshop will focus on Conciliation techniques and strategies across a number of jurisdictions. Workshop participants will have an opportunity to:

- examine their own dispute resolution (Conciliation) style and legal or organizational context;
- examine situations that challenge them in relation to party management or disputes;
- acquire Conciliation skills that can be applied in many areas of professional practice;
- learn from other conciliation practitioners in the field;
- develop new methods to deal with old problems, through small group exercises and coaching;&
- workshop 'real life' disputes from their own work/life and diverse experiences

This training will provide not only insights into the conciliation role but also an opportunity to meet other conciliators and professionals from a variety of jurisdictions and backgrounds.

Workshop fee: $1200 for two days. Please register and pay by 1 October 2015.

To register/pay: https://latrobe.onestopsecure.com/onestopweb/LTUEv/createbooking?e=LTU_FBEL_EV15

Register early. Participant numbers will be limited to enhance the learning experience.

Financial LEADR/IAMA members receive a 10% discount - $1080.00. Reduced rates available for group bookings. All days fully catered. You may be eligible for CPD points - contact your Professional Body. La Trobe University certificates of completion will be issued.

Any questions: Michael Mitchell: mitchellmediation@mail.com Mobile: 0447 710062