

Mark Hourigan

Head of Legal, Transurban
Queensland
Transurban

Mark is Head of Legal, Transurban Queensland since he joined in January 2017.

Mark previously worked at King & Wood Mallesons and was a Partner at Ashurst. Since commencing with Transurban, Mark has led most of the business transformative projects for Transurban Queensland including Project Operations and Maintenance, Inner-city Bypass, Logan Enhancement, Gateway Upgrade North, Thales to Kapsch, and Toowoomba Second Range Crossing.

Most recently Mark has had the opportunity to undertake the role of Acting GM Development for Queensland and is currently leading the legal team on the potential acquisition of the NSW Government's remaining interest in WestConnex.

Whilst in private practice Mark worked predominately on resources infrastructure and mining projects for clients such as BHP, Rio Tinto, Aurizon and Xstrata. Mark acted for NBN on the acquisition of Telstra's copper network and on a number of asset acquisitions and disposals including Port of Newcastle and Sunshine Coast Airport.
